Re: Yuly Aronson v. Anthony Branca
07 CIV 9405

Dear Judge McMahon:

DATE FILED: 11/13/07

I represent the Plaintiff in the above matter which was assigned to Your Honor on October 19, 2007. On Friday November 9, 2007, my client directed me to file a request for Injunctive Relief in this matter. Judge Sweet was serving as the Part 1 Judge on that day and signed the enclosed Order to Show Cause.

The Order to Show Cause sets for a hearing before Your Honor on November 15, 2007. I will be out of the county during that entire week, and I respectfully ask that Your Honor adjourn the hearing until my return to New York. I will be available at any time for the hearing beginning November 21, 2007.

In the event that Your Honor is inclined to grant this adjournment, I ask that you extend the Temporary Restraint Ordered by Judge Sweet until the hearing of this matter.

Due to the timeliness of this matter and my unavailability next week, I humbly ask that your decision be faxed to me so that my office can then advise me via e-mail of your decision, and if it is possible, that your clerk e-mail me directly at the e-mail address above to advise me of your decision.

I thank you sincerely for your consideration.

Very Truly Yours,

Brian H. Reis
